

Claudia was very patient, knowledgeable and involved every child in the experiments. The adults were as equally intrigued as the children. Everyone was entertained and had an opportunity to learn. My son has processing delays: He participated at the party but was raving about the show all the way home in the car. His class recently studied the states of matter in science.

Steven's party was a success.

Thank you.
Cathy Mousouris