Mad Science Offers Winter Break Camps

Arvada, CO – Mad Science of Colorado is offering fun and educational camps during the 2011 winter break, at a variety of Denver metro locations.

Keep your child's imagination engaged during the break from school with Mad Science's fun and educational programs. These camps, designed for children ages four to twelve, allow children to touch, feel, and experience what science is all about. The camp topics include "Claws, Codes and Constellations," "Red Hot Robots," "WATT's Up," and "Super Science Sampler."

Camps are available in half and full-day, formats with prices starting at $69 for a single day. For more information on these camps, as well as other Mad Science programs, visit www.madscience.org/colorado.
