

Mad Science Birthday Party FAQ

What time should I tell my guests to arrive?

Please have your guests arrive at least 15 minutes before our party is to begin. Very often guests are late and it interferes with the party. Our party will begin at the start time and end at the finish time.

How much space do I need?

A room large enough for all of the children to sit comfortably. Indoors works best for our party, as we need to be able to darken the room. Also our scientist will need access to an electrical outlet.

Where should the children sit?

Tables and chairs are perfect but if you don't have them our Scientist will bring in a tarp large enough for the kids to sit and work comfortably on the floor.

What time will the Scientist arrive?

Our Scientist will arrive shortly before the party. The set-up time for our party is minimal and only takes 5- 10 minutes.

What about my adult guests?

We love parents and encourage them to attend. However, you may want to have an area for them to socialize. When the parents crowd around the experiments, it is distracting to the children and also our Scientist.
